Hi there!

My name is Myles Warner, but a lot of people who know me call me GEAR. I'm a hybrid designer and developer, musician, producer, vocalist, and audio engineer. I love sitting at my work desk and making things from scratch with my computer whether it's a Ruby program that automates my CSS and HTML workflow, a strange series of illustrations with Adobe Illustrator, or an ethereal soundscape with a few synths in Ableton Live. I'm pursuing my BS in Computer Science along with a few other certifications to make sure I'm well-qualified in the long run. Basically, that means I love to learn.

I'm also an INTJ if that interests you at all.
